

Aron Levine
President, Preferred Banking

Aron Levine is the president of Preferred Banking, and is a member of the company's executive management team.

Levine is responsible for the growth of the Preferred Banking business, one of the eight lines of business for Bank of America, providing banking, lending and investing solutions to U.S. mass affluent consumers. He leads a team of banking employees and financial solutions advisors responsible for providing a full-range of financial solutions aligned to clients' needs and priorities. This includes the Consumer Investments group, which helps clients pursue their financial goals by seamlessly providing access to the investment insights of Merrill and the banking convenience of Bank of America.

Levine and his leadership team ensure an industry-leading client experience, overseeing the integration of award-winning digital capabilities combined with a high-touch approach delivered via a nationwide network of financial professionals available via financial centers, centralized contact centers and Merrill offices.

Levine joined the company through Fleet Financial group in 1993 and has held leadership roles in Commercial Real Estate Banking, Marketing, Corporate Strategy, and Global Wealth Management.

He proudly serves on the Global Board of Advisors for Operation HOPE and is also a Board Member for both the Boys and Girls Clubs of Metro Atlanta and Horizons Atlanta.

Levine graduated from the University of Rochester with a degree in both Economics and History.
